Dear Mr. Welker:

I have your splendid report relative to your study of the Departmental Graded materials put out by our Board. I would like to print it all but really it is very, very long and I am in perplexity to know what to do with it. It ought to be printed and sent throughout the Church but as you know we have but a few pages which must be divided among several departments. Perhaps, I can print it a part at a time. Just now we have special numbers coming on and it may be delayed a little.

Yours most sincerely,

My dear Dr. Robinson:

Thank you for your letter and for the information about Mrs. Humphryes.

I hoped you would feel like publishing the letter which I addressed to the Editor. Think it over. If you do not just like the form, send it back and I will rewrite it.

Do not be too modest. Sacrifice yourself sometimes for the good of your cause.

My dear Dr. Warfield:

I cannot tell you how much good cheer your letter of October 17th brought me. I think I will send it to some of our directors who are in need of that sort of thing. We are always happy to promote Wilson College in every way. I do it from sincere conviction as to the valuable work you are doing.

By the way, I meant to say to you when you were here that I wish you would send your printed material to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Humphreys, Delhi, New York. They have a daughter who will be ready for college in two years. She is unusually bright in school and has had high rank for many years. Not only so, the family is one to be approved and cultivated. Mr. Humphreys has a responsible position and his wife (a college graduate) is his splendid co-worker. It may be they sent to you for the name of Wilson College was mentioned among others. Their daughter, Ruth, will not be ready as I understand it until the fall of '33. At any rate, I think it would be well to send them the material. You have been my good friend and I appreciate it.

My dear Dr. Robinson:

I am sending you a review which Dr. Nevius has written on "Word Pictures in the New Testament". I think you will find it very acceptable. I have had him sign it. I am rather inclined to think it would be good for us to have his name appear in full.

I think Nevius a very able man and that it would be advantageous to enlist his interest in The Presbyterian.

He was recommended to us by Machen. He is a thorough going conservative but he was disgusted by the course of Craig in The Presbyterian and has ceased to read the paper, despite my frequent recommendations of it and his great personal friendship with Stuart Nye Hutchison, who was I think his classmate at Princeton Seminary. If you can get him to do something for The Presbyterian I think it would be a good thing to do.

With cordial regard,

Very truly yours,

Dear Doctor Robinson

Your letter of Sept 29th brought out a phase of an editors responsibility which I had just not thought about.

Needless to say I should be much pleased to be able to help you out, but the hard times have cut our income in half and with no assurance from month to month that even that may not cease.

We had a small checking account in the Central Trust Co, which closed it doors on the sixth of the month so that our spare funds are none whatever.

Dear sirs:-

If it be within the province of that which is right will you kindly insert the following ad in the next issue of your paper in the department of the Presbyterian exchange. If not, then kindly notify me as to what steps I must take to permit this action on your part.

A few brief words as to myself. I am college and seminary trained, 40 years old, with 20 years of experience, a part of which was spent in India, have been uniformly successful in every pastorate I have had including the one I now hold, have never had to move by action of my people, am officially rated as one of the best preachers in the denomination. The reasons for my wishing to change are numerous. When I first started out to preach I wanted to be a Presbyterian, but my parents were Methodists and it seemed to be impossible to make any change at the time. If you wish a reference from Presbyterian sources as to the type and kind of a man I am, I refer you to the Rev. Frank J. Stephens of Mount Sterling, Ohio, who has known me for several years. I have an abundance of other references, all Methodist, extending back over a period of ten to fifteen years. I might note that I am an author. "What Price Salvation" is the name of the first book I wrote, which was very highly commended in a review in the Presbyterian some three years ago. It was published by Dorrance and Company of your city, the Drexel Building, and doubtless they would speak a word in my favor. The book is sound in theology as is my belief, rated as orthodox, and highly supported by dozens of the religious magazines in the country. Many have termed it fundamentalist. I am a lecturer of note and have another book now with publishers under title of "Notions of Faith" which will be a monumental work when it appears in print.

Mrs. Washburn is a trained deaconess, a registered nurse with a notable Red Cross record in the World War, has seen service in Mexico and India, is cultured, modest, refined and talented. She is alse quite a speaker, and has appeared before large audiences, with her messages.

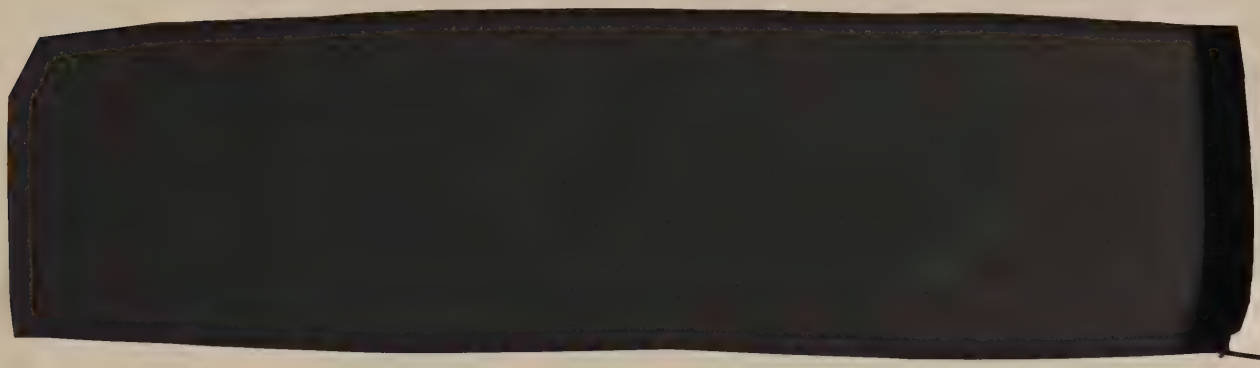
Both of us are in good health.

I was born in Macomb, New York and am an easterner, if that is of any worth.

Here is the ad which I wish you may be able to insert:



I figure this as 90 words, which come to $4.50 and which is herewith enclosed.

My dear Dr. Robinson:

I beg to acknowledge your letter. I am afraid I shall have to accept your permission and pass the book on to Dr. Nevius. I do not like to review a book without very careful reading and I find little time for book reading just at this season of the year.

I want to thank you for the pleasant little comment on Dr. McDowell's recent publication. I was also glad to see what you had to say about mayors and to see it also in the New York Times. What a pity it is, however, that such things happen.

I was sorry to note your reference to financial difficulties. I find the only people that are really cheerful about the finances of the world are those that have none to worry about. A man must have a good deal of money these days to suffer greatly. We should have a roll of Presbyterian ~~sons~~ saints and martyrs.

I happened to be looking up Harbison's daughter this morning. She is enrolled for this fall but I never really expected her to come here, partly because I discovered that she was enrolled for three other institutions, partly because she has not seemed to find college preparation just as easy as some others have found it. And then there is the financial depression! But I happened to be in Harbison's office when he was called up by the representatives of the Federation of Churches and it was delightful to hear how positive he was in having no more to do with it. Of course you saw the most recent deliverance, with its strong leaning toward the Soviet interpretation of society.

Did you also see the outcome of that sociological clinic which was held at the time of the union of the Congregational and Christian Churches? I intended to send you the excellent report in the New York Times. I hope you saw it yourself.

With cordial regard and best wishes,

Very truly yours,

My dear Dr. Robinson:

I received on Saturday, the fourth volume of Dr. Robinson's "Word Studies in the New Testament" from The Presbyterian marked for review.

I am in some doubt as to what you wish. I noticed in The Presbyterian of August 6th a brief notice of it and I think I have observed in recent months that you are only publishing these short book notices. If you have something different in mind will you please let me know.

I might as well say at once that in these busy weeks just before College opens I may not find it possible to adequately review it, if such is your wish, and if that proves to be so, may I pass it on to Dr. Warren N. Nevius, the Head of our Bible Department? Perhaps you do not know that he is the Princeton University fellowship man of the class of '99 and a Princeton Seminary graduate and an exceedingly competent scholar. I should like you to get in closer touch with him.

I have been greatly interested in The Presbyterian lately. I think you are making a brave and successful effort to put the old paper on its feet again. If I had any criticism to make it would be that you are a bit too modest for a first class editor. Take a look at the Banner once in a while and do not imitate but see how Snowden does it. What has become, by the way, of the union of the Banner and the Advance?

I was particularly distressed to hear of Miss Clara Alexander's death. She had a great following and her loss is a serious one.

I am hoping to be in Philadelphia shortly and to have the pleasure of seeing you.

Dear Dr. Warfield:

It was such a pleasure to find your letter on my desk this morning. You wrote it September first but I was in the mountains last week.

You may pass the book "Word Studies in the New Testament" to Dr. Nevius. I would like a little fuller review than we had previously. I should be very glad to know Dr. Nevius.

I thank you for your encouraging word and also your comment upon my modesty. I think modesty is a real virtue and rather rare. I have often been told that I was overloaded with it. My own family in particular remind me of it many times during the year. I am trying to carry on here for awhile and am having much encouragement of approval of the [illegible]. We are having a hard time financially as Mr. Harbison is suffering from the depression and we are wholly dependent upon him and Mr. Crowell. I hope you may soon call at our office.

Dear Sir -

Recently I bought a set of books "Our Wonder World" from the Geo H. Shuman Co. Chicago. Upon examining the books I find them filled with evolution theories, One book tells the usual hideous evolution stories of the beginning of man.

Out of your wide experience can you tell me of any way I can make them take them back? I have made a small payment but have never used the books. They were sold as books that a Christian could feel safe in giving to children - and the pages I saw were very good.

I am inclosing a stamped and addressed envelope for your reply.

I want to congratulate you upon your securing the publishing of the articles on the "Gospel of the Mediteraneon." They are very interesting and I have loaned my paper to an Catholic family and they are eager for it and I hope they will absorbe much else in your valuable paper. I want to especially add my approval of the "Evangelistic Gospel" as told by Rev, Lyon. I believe he is entirely right in all he says. If we do not have such meetings we do not grow. Only people born in such, as a rule, ever amount to any thing as workers in the church. At least that has been my observation. Those gathered in by drives, and so on, merely are dead wood to carry on the church roll,

We would like to see some editorials on the craze for bridge that is taking so much time and money, from the work of the church by those who have given their names to the church as members. Also the effect that their action has upon the community when Pastors & their Children attend the Movies that are now classed as the greatest Enemy of Robbers & Burglars we have today. Why not hit things with stones instead of ~~Pastors~~ How can ministers speak against such things as Patronize them, Why should men have to wait long for a divorce. or woman either. If it is to be why delay it. I knew a Pastor whose wife led the young men of his church astray. He had to move. She did it again.
